Interview Guidelines

Preparing for Your Interview at the U.S. Embassy in Amman

Upload your documents to CEAC at least two (3) weeks in advance of the interview date unless you're applying for a K, DV, or employment-based visa. Uploading documents ahead of time will allow the Embassy to review the case to ensure the applicant has all required documents. If the case is missing a document, the Embassy will send an email before the appointment with a list of missing requirements. If you don't bring all the documents you need on the day of the interview, you will be turned away and asked to schedule a new interview date online. Visit the U.S. Embassy's visa webpages for more detailed information.

Non-residents of Jordan and applicants traveling to Jordan for interview:

You should arrive in Jordan five days before your interview and conduct your medical exam.

Rescheduling or Cancelling Your Interview

If you are unable to attend your interview, you may reschedule at www.ustraveldocs.com. There may be a significant wait before the next available appointment, so attempt to attend the date already assigned. You must register online before rescheduling.

There's no guarantee that a visa will still be available if you reschedule your appointment. Check the Visa Bulletin carefully before you reschedule your interview. If you're applying for a Diversity Visa (DV), remember that visas are limited in number and must be issued by September 30 of the program year.

Please note: You can only reschedule after your assigned interview date.

Security Screening Procedures

All visitors to the U.S. Embassy in Amman must follow certain security procedures. Any visitor who declines to be screened by U.S. Embassy security personnel will be unable to enter the Embassy. To avoid delaying your entry and that of those in line behind you, bring only what you need for your interview. If you leave items in your car, be sure to put them in the trunk and lock your car; do not leave any personal items in view in the passenger compartment.

People entering the Consular Section will not be able to bring any electronic or battery-operated devices (including, but not limited to, mobile phones, laptops, digital watches, cameras, and portable music players

Immigrant Visa Fees

If you have not paid all required fees to either the National Visa Center or via the interview appointment website, be prepared to pay these fees on the day of your interview.

All fees may be paid in either U.S. dollars or the Jordanian Dinar equivalent. We accept cash and credit cards only. If you are paying in cash, you should bring the exact amount.

If you are found ineligible to receive a visa, the application fee cannot be refunded. You can find a complete list of fees on our Fees for Visa Services webpage.

Do Not Make Travel Plans Outside of Jordan

If your visa is approved, we will keep your passport at the Embassy while we prepare your immigration packet and print a visa for your passport. We will return your passport to you later via courier services only. If you must travel within Jordan while your passport is still with us, make sure you have a valid picture ID other than your passport.

A Note to Applicants Regarding the Child Status Protection Act

If a child reaches the age of 21 after his/her application has been submitted, their status as “child” for immigration purposes may be protected under the Child Status Protection Act \(CSPA\) if they satisfy certain conditions.

The CSPA determination is made using a calculation that considers the applicant’s age, the date the application was submitted, and the pending period of the petition (the period between the date the petition was filed and the date the petition was approved by United States Citizenship and Immigration Services). NVC can conduct this calculation on a provisional basis for applicants to gauge the likelihood of CSPA eligibility, but final confirmation of eligibility under CSPA occurs at the interview.

After Your Visa Interview

A consular officer can decide on a visa application only after reviewing the formal application and interviewing the applicant. There is no guarantee that you will receive a visa. Do not sell your house, car or property, resign from your job or make non-refundable flight or other travel arrangements until you have received your immigrant visa.

If More Information Is Needed

Sometimes a consular officer refuses a visa application to review additional documents or for administrative processing.

For additional documents:

- The consular officer will give you a refusal letter that asks you to submit additional documents.
- The letter will include instructions on how to submit those documents to the embassy.

For administrative processing:

- This means the consular officer needs more time to review your case.
- How long this takes depends on your specific situation.

Wait at least 90 days after your interview before asking about your application status.

What Happens After Visa Approval?

Passport, Visa, and Sealed Immigrant Packet – We will place your immigrant visa on a page in your passport. Please review your visa to make sure there are no spelling errors. We will also give you a sealed envelope containing documents that you must give to U.S. immigration authorities when you arrive in the United States for the first time.

Do not open this envelope. You must carry it with you; do not put it in your checked luggage. If you receive X-rays during your medical examination, carry those with you and give them to the U.S. immigration authorities.

If your visa contains the note “IV DOCS in CCD” then you will not receive this package, and your documents have been transmitted electronically. If you receive X-rays during your medical examination, carry those with you and give them to the U.S. immigration authorities.

USCIS Immigrant Fee – All individuals who are issued immigrant visas overseas must pay an Immigrant Fee to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) prior to traveling to the United States. This fee is for processing your residency status and printing your Permanent Resident Card. Only adopted children entering the United States under the Hague Process, returning residents, and people traveling on a K visa are exempt from this fee.

When You Should Travel – You must enter the United States before the expiration date on your visa, which is usually six months from the date of doing your medical exam. Your visa cannot be extended, and all fees are nonrefundable. The principal applicant must enter before or at the same time as other family members with visas. Children who turn 21 years old after visa issuance must enter the United States before they turn 21 years old; otherwise, they will lose their immigrant status.

Getting a Green Card – Your Form I-551 Permanent Resident Card, also known as a green card, will be automatically mailed to the address in the United States that you write on your visa application form. This is a very important document that proves you have permission to reside in the United States. Do not travel outside of the United States until you receive your Permanent Resident Card. Once your card is issued, you should not stay outside of the United States for more than one year. If you do, you will lose your status as a Lawful Permanent Resident.

After Your Visa Interview

Children's Issues – Children are required to have certain vaccinations before they can enroll in school in the United States. Therefore, we recommend that you bring your child's complete vaccination records with you to the United States. Additionally, if your child is adopted, you have full custody as the result of a divorce, or you share custody with the child's other parent, we recommend that you bring a copy of all applicable adoption or custodial papers from the authoritative court in your home country. You will likely need these papers (translated into English) in the United States for issues such as school enrollment, medical care, and eventual citizenship.

Information for New Immigrants – Please visit the USCIS web page for helpful information on moving to the United States. You can read their publication "Welcome to the United States: A Guide for New Immigrants" online.

Diversity Visa Applicants – Additional Information

If you are interviewing for a Diversity Visa (DV), all the above instructions apply to you. Please schedule and attend a medical examination prior to your visa interview and gather the required documents.

Below are additional instructions that apply only to DV applicants.

Bring to your interview

In addition to the documents listed on the Pre-Interview Checklist in this package, DV applicants should also bring the following items to the visa interview:

- ☐ Appointment information printed from the “Entrant Status Check” on the E-DV website
- ☐ Documents showing that you have either a qualifying high school education OR have two years of qualifying work experience in the five (5) years immediately prior to application (for the principal applicant only; more information is available on our Diversity Visa Process webpage).
- ☐ Payment in cash of the $330 Diversity Visa Application Fee. Make sure you bring the exact amount. The U.S. embassy accepts payments in cash and/or credit card.

Review your DV Lottery entry

Prior to your visa interview, we recommend that you review the data on your initial E-DV entry. On your initial E-DV application, you must have correctly entered your marital status. If you are legally married you must have listed your spouse, even if you are currently separated from him/her (unless your spouse is a U.S. citizen or Lawful Permanent Resident).

Additionally, you must have listed ALL your living children who are unmarried and under 21 years old. This includes your natural children, your spouse’s children, or children you have formally adopted in accordance with the laws of your country.

Failure to have listed an existing spouse or children at the time of your entry in the Diversity Visa lottery will result in the denial of your visa and visas for your family. Any fees paid to the U.S. government in support of your visa application(s) are nonrefundable. If you failed to include a child who had already been born, or a spouse to whom you were married when you entered the lottery, you should not proceed with the visa application. You can review the eligibility requirements on the Diversity Visa Process webpage.
